

CONTENTS

| | |
|--|----|
| ABBREVIATIONS | IX |
| ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS | XI |
| INTRODUCTION..... | 1 |
| 1. Preliminary remarks..... | 1 |
| 2. The problem of sources | 2 |
| a. The Essenes | 2 |
| b. The Pythagoreans..... | 3 |
| 3. The Lives of Pythagoras | 6 |
| a. Diogenes Laertius | 6 |
| b. Porphyry | 7 |
| c. Iamblichus | 7 |
| 4. The sources of the Lives of Pythagoras..... | 9 |
| 5. Method and plan of this work | 11 |
| CHAPTER 1 – THE PYTHAGOREAN AND ESSENE WAYS OF LIFE | 15 |
| 1. Apparent points in common between Pythagorean and Essene practices..... | 15 |
| a. Community of life and goods | 15 |
| b. An “inner” and an “outer” circle | 17 |
| c. Exclusiveness, Purity | 19 |
| d. Initiation | 20 |
| e. Expulsion..... | 22 |
| f. Prohibition of oaths..... | 23 |
| g. Common meals | 25 |
| h. White garments | 27 |
| i. Reverence for the sun | 28 |
| 2. Apparent points of difference between the Pythagorean and Essene ways of life | 29 |
| a. Different grades of members | 29 |
| b. Abstinence from flesh meat | 29 |
| c. Marriage and celibacy | 30 |
| d. Women members..... | 32 |
| e. The Land | 33 |

| | |
|--|----|
| 3. Evaluation | 34 |
| A Note on the haberim | 35 |
| EXCURSUS: THE CASE OF EGYPTIAN CENOBITICAL MONASTICISM | 37 |
| CHAPTER 2 – THE SOCIAL GROUPS IMPLIED BY THE TEXTS | 41 |
| 1. Community of life and goods | 41 |
| a. The Pythagorean texts | 41 |
| b. The Essene texts | 43 |
| c. The problem of community of goods | 44 |
| 2. Exclusiveness, Purity | 46 |
| 3. Initiation and common meal | 47 |
| 4. A “sect”? | 48 |
| a. The Pythagoreans | 48 |
| b. The Essenes | 50 |
| c. The end of our quest? | 51 |
| CHAPTER 3 – GRAECO-ROMAN VOLUNTARY ASSOCIATIONS | 53 |
| 1. Organisation and penal code | 53 |
| a. The appellations serekh , yahad and rabbîm | 54 |
| b. The council | 55 |
| c. The priest, the official, the overseer | 55 |
| d. Acceptance of new members | 55 |
| e. Laws and penalties | 56 |
| f. Period of probation for a candidate | 58 |
| g. Renewal of validity of the code | 59 |
| h. The founder of the sect | 59 |
| i. Differences between the codes of guilds and that of Qumran ... | 59 |
| 2. Other features of ancient associations | 61 |
| a. Common meals | 61 |
| b. Women | 62 |
| 3. The Essenes as a Hellenistic association | 62 |
| a. Overall similarity | 62 |
| b. Pre-Hellenistic voluntary associations in Palestine | 64 |
| c. Dissimilarities | 64 |
| 4. Cultic associations | 66 |
| 5. Greek philosophical schools | 68 |
| 6. Conclusion | 69 |
| CHAPTER 4 – ORIENTAL PRIESTHOODS AND RELIGIOUS BROTHERHOODS. | 71 |
| 1. The earliest Greeks | 72 |

| | |
|--|---------|
| 2. The Spartans | 73 |
| 3. The Egyptians | 74 |
| 4. The Jews (Essenes) | 79 |
| 5. The Syrians | 81 |
| 6. The Persians | 81 |
| 7. The Gymnosophists of India | 82 |
| 8. The Cretans | 85 |
| 9. Considerations on purity | 88 |
| 10. The Therapeutae and Therapeutrides | 89 |
| 11. Conclusion..... | 91 |
| CHAPTER 5 – SOME CONCLUSIONS | 93 |
| 1. A progress report..... | 93 |
| 2. Influences? | 95 |
| a. Indian monasticism? | 95 |
| b. Oriental influences on Pythagoras? | 95 |
| c. Pythagorean influences on Essenism? | 96 |
| 3. Pythagoras and his disciples | 97 |
| a. The founder and his followers | 97 |
| b. Pythagorean teachings..... | 98 |
| c. The Pythagorean life | 100 |
| d. Pythagorean communities in the Hellenistic and Roman periods? | 101 |
| e. What happened to Pythagoreanism?..... | 104 |
| 4. The evolution of the Essenes..... | 105 |
| BIBLIOGRAPHY..... | 109 |
| INDEXES | 119 |